Dr. Nola Jones is the Coordinator of Visual and Performing Arts for Metropolitan Nashville Public Schools in Nashville, Tennessee. Her duties include instructional supervision of four hundred professional arts education specialists, curriculum planning, professional development and implementation of Music Makes Us.

Music Makes Us is a public/private partnership among Metro Nashville Public Schools, Nashville Mayor Megan Barry and music industry and community leaders in Nashville. Its purpose is to ensure Metro Nashville Public Schools is a world-wide leader in music education, bringing the resources of the Nashville music community together to enable participation and foster student success for all of its approximately 85,000 students.

Prior to her appointment in Nashville, Dr. Jones served as Director of Bands and Associate Professor of Music Education at the University of Tennessee at Martin and Assistant Director of Bands and Assistant Professor of Music Education at Northern Arizona University.

A native of Mississippi, Dr. Jones has enjoyed a successful tenure as a public school music educator. Ensembles Dr. Jones instructed were recognized for their achievements in concert, sight-reading and marching, including performances in the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade, three Bands of America Regional Championships and the John Philip Sousa Foundations' prestigious Sudler Shield of Excellence.

Dr. Jones maintains an active schedule as a guest conductor, adjudicator and clinician. She has appeared nationally in forty of the United States and internationally in Canada, Japan, the Netherlands and Singapore. She currently serves on the Board of Directors for the Tennessee Performing Arts Center and Spotify for Education's Advisory Board. She is a member of the judge liaison team for Drum Corps International. She has served as a state chair for the National Band Association and is Past President of Phi Beta Mu International Bandmasters' Eta Chapter. Her professional affiliations include the National Association for Music Education, Tennessee Music Educators Association, Tennessee Bandmasters Association, Middle Tennessee School Band and Orchestra Association, National Band Association, Phi Beta Mu, Sigma Alpha Iota, Tau Beta Sigma and Kappa Kappa Psi.

Dr. Jones received the Bachelor of Music Education degree from Mississippi State University and the Master of Music Education degree from Mississippi College. She received her Doctorate of Musical Arts in Conducting from the University of South Carolina where she was a student of Dr. William J. Moody.
